Nothing but the most sincere devotion to those who desire to be emancipated from "the awake to the reality of a "life hid with Christ in God," inseparable from omnip-otent Life and Love, urges me to repeat to any that will hear these inspiring St. words of Professor Seiss, to be found in his "Lectures on the Apocalypse":

With the dominion of death broken the whole empire of darkness breaks with it, the reign of hell is dissolved and the victory of redemption is complete. With the curse of mortality and corruption thus swallowed up of life, the devil's sway is gone . . . and all his malignant hopes against the Church overwhelmed.
